DESTRUCTIVE STORM

WORST GALE IN YEARS SWEEPS OVER LAKES MICHIGAN, HURON AND ERIE.

A DOZEN PERSONS DROWNED

ELEVEN VESSELS DESTROYED AND FIFTEEN OTHERS ARE BADLY DAMAGED.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The storm which Thursday night and Friday swept over Northern Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and Lake Erie was one of the most severe in recent years. As far as returns are obtainable at present eleven vessels have been completely wrecked and twelve to fifteen others more or less severely damaged. Twelve lives are known to have been lost and as the gale on Southern Lake Huron and Lake Erie is still blowing fiercely it is feared that other losses of life and property will be reported within the next twenty-four hours.

The boats wrecked are as follows: Tug Frank Perry, sunk off Boot Island, in the Cheneaux group.

Steamer Joseph S. Fry, ran ashore near Rogers City, Mich., and broken to pieces by waves; the mate, Joseph Size, was drowned. The boat is owned by M. A. Bradley of Cleveland.

Barge D. P. Rhodes, in tow of steamer J. S. Fay, driven ashore near Sheboygan, Mich.

Schooner Emma L. Neilson, stranded in Presque Isle harbor. Boat badly damaged, but crew was saved.

Schooner Minnedosa, founded, two and one-half miles off Harbor Beach, in Lake Huron, early Friday, carried down entire crew of eight men.

Schooner Mautenee, ashore eighteen miles west of Erie, Pa.

Schooner, supposed to be the Tasmania of the James Corrigan fleet, sunk two and one-half miles southwest of the Southeast shoal light, ship on Lake Erie; carried crew of eight men, of whom nothing is known.

Steamer Sarah E. Sheldon, beached and wrecked near Lorain, O.

Schooner Kingfisher, beaten to pieces off Cleveland.

Tug Walter Metcalf, sunk near Breakwater light, Cleveland.

Greatest Loss of Life.

The Minnedosa, on which so far as known the greatest loss of life occurred, was coming down from Fort William, Can., bound for some Lake Ontario port with a cargo of wheat. She was in tow of the steamer Westmount, which was also towing the barge Melrose. The tow lines broke during the storm and the Melrose and Westmount were separated from the Minnedosa. They managed to make a harbor at Harbor Beach, late in the afternoon, and reported that they had seen the Minnedosa go down. She was in command of Captain Phillips, who had his wife aboard. The names of the other members of the crew are not known. The boat was owned by the Montreal Transportation company of Montreal, Can.

The schooner Mautenee struck a rock eighteen miles west of Erie, Pa., early Friday morning and pounded by the terrific seas, commenced breaking up almost immediately. The waves were so high that it was impossible to launch the lifeboat and one of the seamen whose name is unknown swam to shore with a line. A breeches buoy was soon rigged up and the entire crew and the cook, Mrs. Kate Daly, were brought safely to shore. The boat was without cargo and was bound from Buffalo to Duluth.

Two and one-half miles southwest of the Southwest shoal lightship on Lake Erie, the masts of a schooner are just visible above the water. From one of the spars is flying the colors of the Corrigan fleet and the boat is unquestionably the schooner Tasmania. The Tasmania and Ashland Thursday night passed Detroit in tow of the steamer Bulgaria. The Bulgaria was sighted in lee of the island but neither the Tasmania nor the Ashland was with her. The Tasmania carried eight men.

Loss of the Steamer Fay.

The steamer Joseph F. Fry was run ashore near Rogers City, Mich., Thursday night and was soon broken to pieces. The boat was bound up Lake Huron, towing the schooner D. H. Rhodes, both coal laden bound for Chicago.

When off Forty Mile point at 7 p. m. the tow line parted and the Rhodes was swept away from her consort. The Fay met such heavy weather that it was decided that her only salvation was to run upon the sand, which was promptly done. The crew escaped, but the boat was soon destroyed by the terrific seas. The crew of the Rhodes as soon as separated from the Fay made sail and started for the Straits of Mackinac. For a time they made excellent progress, but when off Sheboygan point the gale suddenly shifted to the northwest and the canvas being carried away the boat was driven ashore. The crew was taken off by a tug. The boat is badly damaged.

The Emma L. Neilson while coming up Lake Huron had her masts carried away and her deck load of lumber swept overboard. The boat was finally stranded in Presque Isle harbor and is being rapidly broken up.

The barge Golden Age, which was in tow of the steamer William Edwards, was blown ashore on the east bank of the channel in Lake St. Clair.

She is in a bad position, but it is thought will be saved without great damage.

The gale created such a sea as has not been experienced by sailors on the lakes in the past fifteen years. Many of the large steel barges which make nothing of the usual heavy seas prevalent at this time of the year were compelled to seek shelter in the nearest ports. As an evidence of the severity of the wind, it is said that the storm lowered the water on Lime Kilns Crossing at the mouth of the Detroit river by over two feet and completely stopped all navigation during the day. Friday night the water was 18.2 feet but Friday morning, during the height of the gale, it was down to 14.1 feet, the lowest ever known.

Gale on Lake Michigan.

Although the gale on Lake Michigan was not as severe as that on Lake Huron and Lake Erie, it was nevertheless the worst that has been experienced this year. The boats around Chicago were comparatively safe, as the gale was off shore in this locality and the steamers plying between this city and Milwaukee were able to make their usual trips by standing in somewhat closer to shore than usual. The east shore of Lake Michigan, however, suffered severely. Dock property was swept away at St. Joseph, South Haven, Holland, Grand Haven and Muskegon. The total damage done is estimated at $50,000.

The storm did not work as much havoc on Lake Superior as on the lower lakes, but two accidents having been reported up to midnight. These occurred at Grand Marais, Mich., where the steamer Barth, towing the schooners Nirvana and Galatea, endeavored to make the port for shelter. The entrance is narrow and difficult to make in heavy weather. Both schooners missed the entrance and drifted westward in the lake. The Nirvana went down about a half mile off shore and her crew of seven men was rescued by the lifesaving crew. The Galatea went ashore, but is resting on sand and will probably weather the storm. Her crew of seven men was also taken off. The three vessels belong to the Hines Lumber company of Chicago.

THE STORM ON LAKE ERIE.

Wrecks Strew the Shore From Buffalo to Detroit.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21.—As a result of the wildest storm that has swept Lake Erie in years, wrecks have strewn the shore the entire distance from Buffalo to Detroit. The storm came with abrupt suddenness at an early hour Friday morning and continued without interruption throughout the day. At midnight the wind velocity, which reached fifty-four miles an hour at its highest point Friday, had decreased little in force and fears were felt that the reports of numerous wrecks received during the day did not entirely cover the extent of the damage. The storm swept the lake from one end to the other and every vessel that was exposed suffered to a more or less extent. The known losses as enumerated so far include the following:

Freighter Sarah E. Sheldon, beached and wrecked near Lorain.

Steamer Wisconsin, on rocks off Lorain.

Steamer F. A. Prince, damaged near Cleveland.

Several barges sank off Buffalo harbor.

Steamer Prinkel reached Buffalo badly damaged.

Barge Yukon sunk off Ashtabula harbor; crew rescued.

Two of the crew of the Sheldon were lost off Lorain. The wreck of this vessel was the most serious of any reported thus far and the story of its experience was thrilling in every way.

RESCUED IN MIDOCEAN.

Captain and Crew of Sinking Norwegian Ship Saved.

Sydney, C. B., Oct. 21.—Rescued in midocean as their vessel was about to sink, Captain Zachariassen and his crew of eight men of the Norwegian bark H. W. Palmer were landed here Friday by the Norwegian steamer Christian Bors, which arrived from Hull, Eng. The Palmer left Buenos Aires, N. B., Oct. 2, for Queenstown with a cargo of deal. On Oct. 11 she encountered a terrific hurricane and sprang a leak. It was evident the next day the vessel could not remain afloat much longer and Captain Zachariassen and crew prepared to take to the boats, although a tremendous sea was running. At that moment, however, the steamer Christian Bors was sighted. Signals of distress were quickly displayed and the steamer responded. All were taken safely on board the steamer, the crew of which set fire to the bark.

MORE MONEY FOUND

NEARLY ALL OF THAT STOLEN BY EDWARD G. CUNLIFFE HAS BEEN RECOVERED.

BETRAYED FOR THE REWARD

AN OLD FRIEND OF THE EXPRESS PACKAGE THIEF TOLD OF HIS WHEREABOUTS.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 21.—The chances that the police will recover nearly the whole of the $101,000 stolen from the Adams Express company in Pittsburg by Edward G. Cunliffe, who was arrested Thursday and taken to Pittsburg Friday seem bright. Friday night $9,065 was found in a trunk belonging to a butler in a prominent family at Black Rock, but the butler and the family by whom he is employed are ignorant of the fact that the large sum found was within the house. Although there is a possibility that the remaining $10,500 has been destroyed the police are of the opinion that another accomplice of Cunliffe may reveal the hiding place of the missing sum. In round numbers $90,000 have been found within the past twenty-four hours. After figuring on about $500 as the amount which Cunliffe has spent up to the time he was arrested, there remains the sum of $10,500 yet to be accounted for.

The discovery of the money in the Black Rock home was brought about by keeping a close watch on one Cunliffe's chance acquaintances, George Eisenman, who was with Cunliffe when he was arrested. Cunliffe gave Eisenman a package said to contain laundry, which he asked Eisenman to keep it in a safe place. Eisenman took the bundle to his sister's house, opened it and found the big sum of money.

Obtained the Money.

Captain Arnold of the detective bureau who knows Eisenman and who saw him with Cunliffe when the latter was taken, went to the home of Eisenman's sister and found the bundle of shirts, but no money, and he suspected that Eisenman had abstracted a part of Cunliffe's plunder. Eisenman was shadowed all day and he was seen to give a small package to his friend, the butler. At night Eisenman was taken to the Black Rock house and asked the butler for the package. He went to his trunk and turned it over to Captain Arnold intact. The butler had not been told what was in the package.

Two other new features of the chapter of events in connection with the capture of Cunliffe cropped out Friday night, one being an attempt by Cunliffe to bribe Captain George Arnold of the local detective force, and the other being the story of betrayal by a friend of Cunliffe for the purpose of securing the reward of $2,500 offered by the Pinkertons for his arrest.

During one of the talks which Captain Arnold had with Cunliffe Thursday night the prisoner made a proposition to divide the $50,000 which he had sent to his brother-in-law Joseph W. Boardman, in Bristol, on the promise of secrecy. Arnold was to have received $40,000 if the scheme was carried out according to the plans of the prisoner, who was to tell the Pittsburgh authorities that the hiding place of the money would never be known.

Disappointment for Cunliffe.

Arnold led the prisoner on his wild proposition and after Cunliffe's plans were laid bare, the detective told him that the money he had intended to split up had already been found in Bristol.

The betrayal of Cunliffe by his friend, James Missett, is interesting. Missett formerly lived in Bristol and knew Cunliffe well. At present Missett is employed by one of the cheap hotels in the section of the city in which Cunliffe was captured. Last Tuesday Missett went to the Tremont hotel barroom and saw Cunliffe standing at the bar. Missett said: "Hello, Cunliffe; what are you doing here?"

Cunliffe denied that he had ever seen Missett. Missett then left the barroom in a hurry and the next morning went to New York, visited the Pinkerton agency and on being told that the reward for Cunliffe was $2,500, obtained a written agreement that he should get the reward if he enabled the Pinkerton people to arrest Cunliffe. This was agreed to and Missett told them. The arrest of Cunliffe followed.

Friday night Missett returned from New York with the $2,500 reward and proceeded to spend it lavishly throughout the lower part of the city.

Ten Per Centers in Pension Office to Be Discharged.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Commissioner Warner of the pension bureau Friday announced his intention of recommending the dismissal from the service of a number of employees who have been engaged in loaning money in the bureau at usurious rates. He says that in some cases as high as 10 per cent per month has been charged and he expresses the opinion that the dismissal of offenders is the only effective way of stopping the practice.

AMERICA'S FOREMOST CLOTHES MAKERS

WHEN you see a well-dressed man—a man whose clothes attract your attention—not because they are extreme or showy, but simply because they look well, look real and stylish, you may know that man understands clothes buying. It may not mean that he has gone the limit of expense by patronizing a custom tailor or that he has discovered something that no one else can secure, but simply means, he has used Good Judgment, and more often than otherwise good judgment in clothes leads to The House of Kuppenheimer.

We do not assert that all well-dressed men wear Kuppenheimer Clothes, but that a very large number do. A great many of these men are just as critical as you are, and they seem satisfied—if they were not we'd promptly know it—our business would reflect it. Every year more men—a great many more—buy Kuppenheimer Clothes in preference to any other. If you will take the time to investigate, we can convince you—rather, you can convince yourself—that Kuppenheimer Clothes mean complete satisfaction.

Fall and Winter Styles for 1905 and 1906, the latest and newest things in Men's Clothes—namely Kuppenheimer Clothes—are being shown by the best-informed dealer, The New Store, H. W. Linnemann, proprietor. We will gladly send you our Book, "Styles for Men," if you ask for it.

GETTING MARRIED IN BUNCHES
Clerk of the Court Johnston Re-ports Business in Connubial Bliss Spasmodic
FOUR LICENSES IN ONE DAY
There Were no Licenses Issued From September 30 to October 18th

Cupid must have taken a vacation during the early part of October, so far as Crow Wing county was concerned. There was not a marriage license issued between the thirtieth of September and 18th day of October. But when the little god with the bow got down to business again he was Johnny on the spot and as sure as Crow Wing county taxes. The trouble began on the 18th when one license was granted, and the fever spread rapidly. Two were issued the 19th and yesterday Mr. Johnston issued the documents that made eight people happy. Four licenses is thought to be the high water mark in hymeneal bliss for one day in the history of Crow Wing county.

A good story is told of a couple of Brainerd's popular young people who went to Minneapolis to have the knot tied. They were ignorant of the law requiring the license to be issued in the county where the bride resides and when they applied for a license were refused and had to wait till one could be gotten from here.

The licenses issued were as follows: Jacob L. Brown and Josephine B. Olson, Perry Varner and Florence Warren, Ed. Peterson and Harrietta C. E. Lawrence, Paul B. Donaldson and Edna M. Clouston, Louis E. Bedere and Lillie Snell, Axel S. Lindberg and Hilda Holger-son, John Hendrickson and Mary Naykki.

WARNER COMEDY COMPANY
Warner Comedy company played to a good house last night appearing in the pretty play, "Doris," which was presented in a very capable manner. The company made good with this piece and the interesting comedy, "All a Mistake," will be put on tonight.

MR. DANIEL SULLY
A leading attraction at the Brainerd opera house soon will be Mr. Daniel Sully in his latest and best play, "Our Pastor," in which he plays a role similar to that he created and made famous in "The Parish Priest." He appears as the pastor of a little church in a western cattle town, where the rough and ready people have but little consideration for church affairs and little patience with anything of a religious nature. The good-natured priest, however, compels the respect and wins the admiration of even the roughest characters, and how he does it is told in a charming romantic comedy with a background of delicious comedy and thrilling melodrama. In "Our Pastor" Sully has the best play he has ever produced, and those who have enjoyed his splendid performance in "The Parish Priest" may be prepared for even a greater treat.

BONESETTER
SUICIDES
Prefers Death to Six Years at Hard Labor in the Stillwater Penitentiary

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY DISPATCH:
Aitkin, Minn., Oct. 21, 1905.—Dr. W. C. Arons, the bonsetter, who pleaded guilty to bigamy and grand larceny in the second degree in the district court on Thursday afternoon and was sentenced to Stillwater for five years for bigamy and one year for grand larceny, committed suicide this morning at 9:30 by shooting. He had the liberty of the corridor and after breakfast pounded on the door for several minutes before any attention was paid. Finally Deputy John Erickson went to see what he wanted and as soon as the door was opened the bonsetter pushed the deputy back against the wall and ran to the open desk in the sheriff's office and grabbed a revolver and then rushing back to his cell shot himself. The bullet entered his head above the right eye and splitting his head open broke a window light and struck against one of the iron bars.

The suicide left a note asking that Mrs. Dora Arons, his divorced wife be notified, that he never intended to go to Stillwater and that he was sorry to disappoint the sheriff.

TO DEVELOP A NEW FIELD
Brainerd Mining Company Name Of New Organization to Develop Iron Field
NEW FIELD OF ATTRACTION

Is Close to Brainerd and Thought To be Equally as Promising As the Cuyuna

THE DISPATCH today contains the articles of incorporation of the "Brainerd Mining Co.," a local company organized to develop a newly discovered field of magnetic attraction in the vicinity of Brainerd. The incorporators are W. C. White, who has been prominent in the development of the Adams properties on the Cuyuna, R. R. Wise and Judge Holland. The gentlemen are very reticent as to their purposes and plans, but Mr. White informs THE DISPATCH that the company has been organized to develop a new line of attraction that has been discovered. This seems to be entirely independent of the Cuyuna and is so located that its development will mean much for the future of Brainerd.

The incorporators are all men who usually succeed in their undertakings and the fact that they are taking the matter up is good evidence that there is reason to hope for success. Of course, as Mr. White states, no man can tell whether anything of value will be found, but there must certainly be good indications when these gentlemen put their money into it. Here's hoping.

SWAMPED IN WHEAT

Northern Pacific Railroad is Taxed to its Utmost to Handle the Business in Wheat These Days

Never in the history of the Northern Pacific has the Superior division been doing a bigger business than it is today. The yards at Staples were reported blocked this morning and a train of empties for that place was ordered to sidetrack its train at Motley and go in light so as to bring out a train of loads and relieve the congestion. 127 car loads of wheat were in the Brainerd yards this morning billed to the head of the lakes. Everything looks favorable to lively times on this part of the system this winter.

GREET THE PRESIDENT

THOUSANDS OF GEORGIANS WELCOME THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE TO THEIR STATE.

VISIT TO ATLANTA A FEATURE

STOP OF SEVERAL HOURS MADE

AT HOME OF HIS MOTHER IN ROSWELL, GA.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 21.—The president's visit to Atlanta Friday was a marked event in the history of the state of Georgia. He was greeted on his arrival by her most distinguished citizens and throughout the day on every hand were shouted words of welcome that left no room for doubt of their sincerity. The city was in gala attire and business was practically suspended that all might greet the distinguished guest. South Carolina in the person of Governor Heyward added its welcome to the South.

The threatening clouds of the early morning failed to loosen their weight of rain and although a chilling wind prevailed through the entire day it failed to cool the ardor of the welcome. Numerous extra trains brought their burden of Georgians from the surrounding country and it was estimated that not less than 100,000 persons saw and welcomed the president.

The presidential train came into the handsome new station exactly on time and as it appeared threading its way through the maze of tracks in the yards it was given a noisy welcome by all the steam whistles in that part of the city, the demonstration increasing in volume as the train came to a stop.

Headed by Governor Terrell.

Waiting to receive the president was the committee headed by Governor Terrell and composed of Senator A. S. Clay, Congressman Livingston, Mayor J. G. Woodward and Bishop C. K. Nelson of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia. A committee of ladies headed by Mrs. Terrell and Mrs. Clark Howell was in readiness to receive Mrs. Roosevelt.

As the train stopped Governor Terrell and Senator Clay, accompanied by Mrs. Terrell and Mrs. Howell, stepped aboard and greeted the president and Mrs. Roosevelt. A moment later the party departed almost immediately for the governor's mansion while the president and party were escorted to carriages in waiting back of the station. The line of march was quickly formed and the president and his escort started for Piedmont park, where the state fair is being held.

The distance from the station to the park is almost three miles and throughout the entire route which ran along historic Peach Tree street, crowds lined the sidewalk and gave the president round after round of cheers, which the executive smilingly acknowledged, hat in hand. It was a few minutes past eleven when the president reached the park and again he was greeted by the noise of steam whistles from all the engines in the fair grounds and by the cheers by many thousands who were waiting his arrival.

Reviewed the Troops.

After a review of the Seventeenth infantry, which had recently returned to Fort McPherson from the Philippines, the president delivered his address.

A luncheon followed the open air speech at the fair grounds. From the speaker's stand the president was taken to the Piedmont club house attended by a detachment of the Twelfth cavalry. About 1,200 guests were seated at the tables, which were profusely decorated with flowers and flags. During the progress of the luncheon John Temple Graves, editor of the Atlanta Daily News, addressed the president in a personal welcome as a man "whom it was a delight to meet aside from his official character." He referred to the president as "Georgia's most illustrious grandson," which the president received with a broad smile. The president, in replying, thanked the Georgians for their welcome and said his great-grandfather, Archibald Bulloch, was the first Revolutionary governor of Georgia. He spoke in praise of Joel Chandler Harris and his literary productions and denounced corruption in its every form.

VISITS HIS MOTHER'S HOME.

President Roosevelt Makes a Stop of Several Hours at Roswell, Ga.

Roswell, Ga., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt during the day carried out his long cherished plan of visiting the home of his mother here. One of his reasons for coming South was that he might see the old homestead where his mother spent her girlhood and which she left a happy bride.

The president reached Roswell at 7:30 a. m. and was joined here by Senator and Mrs. Clay, who were his guests at breakfast. He then entered a carriage and was driven to his mother's old home. This fine old homestead is now the property of J. D. Wing, a lumber merchant of this section, who lives in it with his sister, Mrs. Wood, the postmistress of Roswell. Here he was greeted by two old servants who lived on the place during his mother's young womanhood. One of these is "Aunt Grace," who acted as maid to Miss Martha Bulloch, who afterwards became Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and the other is William Jackson, who decorated the mansion on the occasion of the marriage of its young mistress. The president was deeply touched as he shook the hands of these old servants. In company with Mrs. Roosevelt he then inspected the house, calling to the attention of the company many incidents connected with his mother's childhood. Before leaving the mansion he posed with Mrs. Roosevelt for a picture, which included "Aunt Grace" and "Daddy William." From the homestead the president was driven to the town park, where a stand had been erected, from which he delivered an address. The reception of the president at the old home of his mother was a cordial one. The people greeted him both as president and as the son of one of their neighbors. Many were the kind references to his mother from those who knew her and many were the expressions of good will toward her distinguished son. The president's train left for Atlanta shortly before 10 o'clock.

REPORTS ARE MORE IRREGULAR.

Trade Not So Active But Industry Is Still at High Tension.

New York, Oct. 21.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade says trade reports are rather more irregular, but industry is still at higher tension. Heavy rains West and too high temperatures South and East have exercised an influence, but back of this is to be reckoned the fact that wholesale trade has been active for three months past and some quieting is naturally in order. Colder weather now advancing is reported stimulating retail trade and influencing reorder business with jobbers. Lifting of quarantines has unquestionably helped Southern trade, but effects of this have been partly counter-balanced by the holding of cotton for higher prices, which also retards collections. Car shortages are becoming more acute, the Pacific coast now feeling their influence and grain, lumber, coal, coke and ore shipments are delayed thereby, with effect on retail trade and collections. Bank clearances are comparatively small; industries still feel the impetus of an unprecedented fall demand; iron and steel are very active; coal is in the usual active fall demand; building is active beyond precedent; cotton manufacturing is active and higher wages have been granted.

AGAINST EXPRESS COMPANY.

Decision Rendered in North Dakota Liquor Case.

St. Paul, Oct. 21.—In an opinion written by Judge Phillips, handed down in the United States circuit court of appeals Friday, the federal court for North Dakota is affirmed in the case of the United States against the Western Express company, in which the company was held liable for special taxes as wholesale and retail liquor dealers. The total amount involved in the suit is about $3,800, there being a large number of counts in the petition for assessments for selling malt liquors at twenty-six stations on the Soo road in North Dakota, a prohibition state.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Clara McCluskey, who was shot down at the rear door of her saloon, 666 West Madison street, at 2 o'clock Friday morning, was murdered by her former friend, Mrs. Clara H. Mrs. Buckley, who was arrested early Friday morning, denied all knowledge of the crime, but at night after being questioned by the police she broke down and confessed.

Let this Machine do Your Washing Free.

There are Motor Springs beneath the tub. These springs do nearly all the hard work, when once you start them going. And this washing machine works as easy as a bicycle wheel does.

There are slats on the inside bottom of the tub. These slats act as paddles to swing the water in the same direction you revolve the tub. You throw the soiled clothes into the tub first. Then you throw enough water over the clothes to float them.

Next you put the heavy wooden cover on top of the clothes to anchor them and to press them down. This cover has slats on its lower side to grip the clothes and hold them from turning around when the tub turns.

Now, we are all ready for quick and easy washing. You grasp the upright handle on the side of the tub and with it, you revolve the tub one-third way round, till it strikes the motor spring.

This motor spring throws the tub back till it strikes the other motor spring, which in turn throws it back on the first motor spring. The machine is just like a little hop from you, at every swing, but the motor-spring, and the ball bearings, do practically all the hard work.

You can sit in a rocking chair and do all that the washer requires of you. A child can run it easily full of clothes.

When you revolve the tub the clothes don't move. But the water moves like a mill race through the clothes.

The paddles on the tub bottom drive the soapy water THROUGH and through the clothes at every swing of the tub. Back and forth, in and out of every fold and crease, every mesh in the cloth, the hot soapy water runs like a torrent. This is how it carries away all the dirt from the clothes, in from six to ten minutes by the clock. It drives the dirt through the meshes of the fabrics WITHOUT ANY RUBBING, without any WEAR AND TEAR from the washboard.

It will wash the finest lace fabric without breaking a thread or a button, and it will wash a heavy, dirty carpet with equal ease and rapidity. Fifteen to twenty garments, or five large sheets, can be washed at one time with the "1900" Washer.

A child can do this in six to twelve minutes better than any able washer-woman could do the same clothes in TWICE the time, with three times the wear and tear from the washboard.

This is what we SAY, now how do you prove it? We send you our "1900" Washer free of charge, on a full month's trial, and we even pay the freight out of our own pockets.

No cash deposit is asked, no notes, no contract, no security. You may use the washer, four weeks at our expense. If you find it won't wash as many clothes in four hours as you can wash by hand in eight hours you send it back to the railway station—that's all.

But if, from a month's actual use, you are convinced it saves HALF the time in washing, does the work better, and does it twice as easily as it could be done by hand, you keep the machine. Then you mail us 50 cents a week till it is paid for.

Remember that 50 cents is part of what the machine saves you every week on your own, on a washer woman's labor. We intend that the "1900" Washer shall pay for itself and thus cost you nothing.

You don't risk a cent from first to last, and you don't buy it until you have had a full month's trial. Could we afford to pay freight on thousands of these machines every month, if we did not positively KNOW they would do all we claim for them? Can you afford to be without a machine that will do your washing in HALF THE TIME, with half the wear and tear of the washboard, when you can have that machine for a month's free trial, and let it PAY FOR ITSELF? This offer may be withdrawn at any time if overcovered our factory.

Write us TODAY, while the offer is still open, and while you think of it. The postage stamp is all you risk.
